Conditions we support, but are not limited to:

- Autism
- Epilepsy
- Learning difficulties
- Sensory impairment
- Physical disabilities
- Other complex needs

Located in Purley, Croydon Russell Hill boasts a large back garden with a trampoline and an indoor communal area. Whilst we specialise in epilepsy, our care team also provide support with learning difficulties, autism and mental health. We tailor a package of care alongside a warm and nurturing environment which reflects our residents wishes.

We work closely with each resident to help build their skillset and help them to be more independent in everyday life. At Russell Hill we're committed to supporting our residents to be independent, confident, and resilient. We have a specialist team that provides our residents the opportunity to grow and maintain a healthy level of good physical and mental wellbeing.

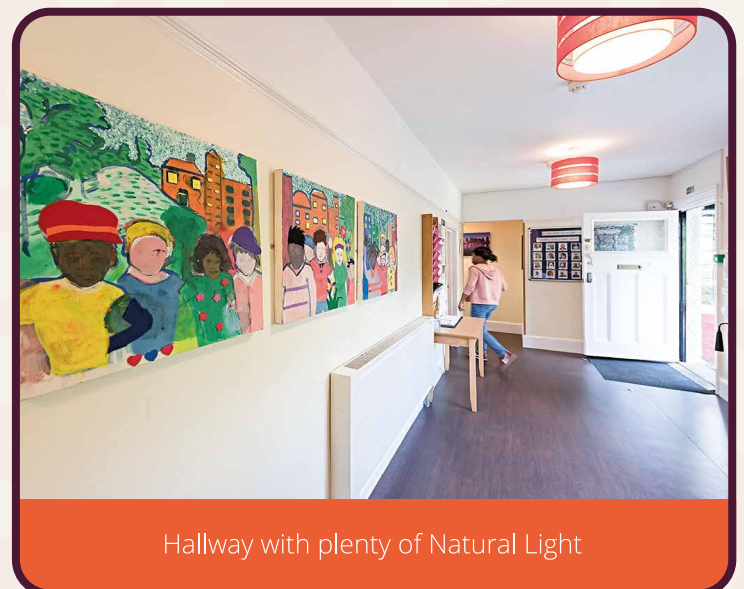

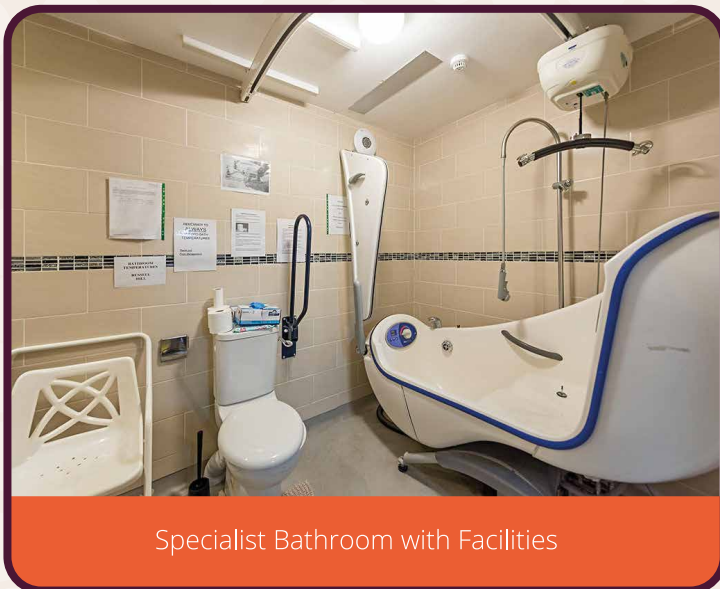

Our Service Users are supported to actively participate in the delivery of their care. We support all residents with managing areas of their daily lives, including managing their finances and nutrition.

Residents that we support benefit from Physiotherapy, Hydrotherapy, Music Therapy, Art Therapy and Reflexology. Some of which are funded by their funding authorities and others are self-funded.

Take a look around...

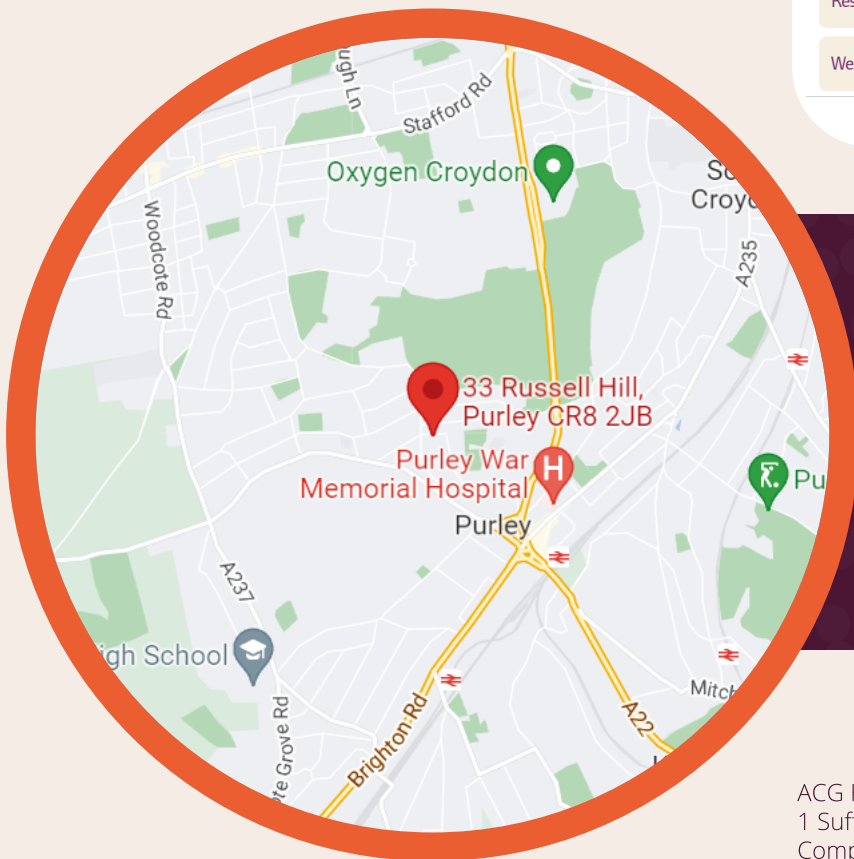

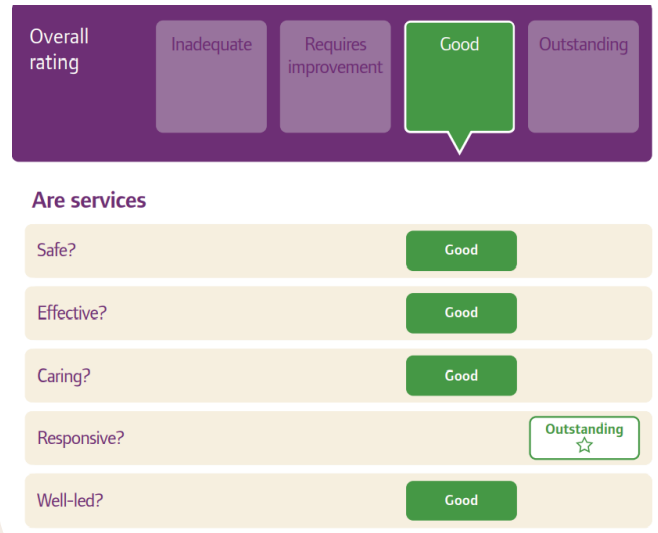

At Russell Hill we are able to provide specialist, holistic care and support for up to 9 residents at any one time.

Russell Hill is located close to Purley high street, which has many shops and small supermarkets. We are close by to parks such as Rounshaw which is perfect for long, woodland walks and wildlife. Russell Hill's ideal location provides great connections to London through Purley Station, and good links to buses going to surrounding areas like Croydon, Caterham, Wallington and Sutton.

We support our Service Users to access community links such as cinemas, leisure centres, shopping centres, seaside trips, college, garden centres and cafes.

At Russell Hill we have aligned and agreed our strategic goals to define what we want our organisation to achieve. This means we have also aligned them with the five domains of the Care Quality Commission (CQC) inspection standards to ensure we provide the very best care possible to all our residents.
